

“ three-dimensional ”

17 If we start from the improper representation of the physical world as “three-dimensional”, we have:

world 49	physical world	3 dimensions
world 48	emotional world	4 dimensions
world 47	mental-causal world	5 dimensions
world 46	essential world	6 dimensions

18 Physical existence (49) is dominated by physical space and physical time. World 48 is dominated by 48-space and 48-time, which are quite different from their physical counterparts. And the corresponding is true of all higher worlds. Anyone who is clearly aware of these facts need not talk much more about that matter to cause irremediable confusion of ideas with improper terminology.

<sup>21</sup> ... All such attempts are deceptive if you do not start from the fundamental fact that the differences between the atomic kinds are due to their different degrees of density of primordial atoms. ... neither V.S.A. nor any other esoteric writer has emphasized or even noticed this problem of trinity as being the basic problem of epistemology.
