

For the mentalist the responsibility is greater

¹⁶ Believing is either an attempt at throwing responsibility on others or at leading an irresponsible life. Agnosticism, atheism, skepticism are as much belief as is any other kind of dogmatism. According to the Law, it is up to man to accept or reject, and all on his own responsibility. For the mentalist the responsibility is greater, as he has a greater ability of judgement. Either you know or you do not know.

¹⁷ It should be pointed out that you cannot disclaim your own co-responsibility for anything, however many times you “wash your hands”. Any compromise whatever as to right and wrong in respect of the Law is a mistake about the Law (of cause and effect). Praying for “grace” is as meaningless as praying to the fire not to burn while putting your hand into it. It is the dharma of the fire to burn and it cannot do otherwise.

[...] Continue reading: 9 THE LAW

Scroll to: 9.11 Law and Responsibility

Translated from Swedish in the hylozoically direct style. Original books of essays are found on the drop-down at top-left of page at laurency.com

hylozoicExcerpts