

greatest possible disservice to the “ dead”

<sup>8</sup> Curiosity wants to know how to get into communication with the “ dead” and how to maintain such communication. Those who pass to the emotional world are from the very beginning completely disoriented, if they are not unconscious, and sleep through the time needed for the dissolution of the emotional envelope. The latter is the happiest case, for the world of thousandfold intensified feelings is, as a rule, anything but comforting, except its higher three molecular layers (48:1-3). The newly arrived thus should strive to reach those higher layers. They are hindered to do so, however, by contacts with physical existence. This is due to the fact that, if the consciousness of the lower molecular kinds of the emotional envelope (48:5-7) is activated, then this will counteract the dissolution of this matter, and the emotional being will be prevented from reaching the higher it is striving for. One does the greatest possible disservice to the “ dead” by trying to maintain communication with them. Besides, they are unable to give us any information to orient us in a world that is strange to them, that they will be able to comprehend fairly well only at the end of many years....
