

*freedom is won through law
and through expedient
application of law*

² The essential self understands what is meant by freedom, that freedom is won through law and through expedient application of law. The so-called freedom of lower worlds consists in the arbitrariness of ignorance, bringing about chaos. Everything that has become law is perfect. Evolution is a continuous adaptation to the Law such as it works on the next higher level. There is no failure, there are only more or less necessary lessons. Much that is called evil is part of the necessary experiences of life.

³ The essential self sees the truth of sayings such as: It is best as it is, was, will be. Whatever happens is in accord with the Law and existing conditions, the effect of pre-existent causes....
