

*disoriented,
idiotized, and
hypnotized by the black lodge*

¹The old dispute of “man’s free-will” is not settled yet. Mankind is unable to settle it at its present stage of development. The learned constantly occupy themselves with problems which they are unable to solve, being also unable to see that they are incompetent for the task. Their ineradicable tendency to speculate spoils everything. They do not seem to comprehend their very fictions hinder them from discovering reality.

²“Free-will” presupposes knowledge of the Law and understanding of life. Men’s will is determined by motives of ignorance. It is impossible to speak of “free-will” with regard to a mankind that is disoriented, idiotized, and hypnotized by the black lodge.

[...] Continue reading here.

scroll to 9.18 Free-Will of 9 THE LAW

Translated from Swedish in the hylozoically direct style. Original books of essays are found on the drop-down at top-left of page at laurency.com

HylozoicExcerpts